Overview of CBFY

core values Collaboration, connection and community

mission Champion the journey of newcomer children and youth

vision Newcomer children, youth and their families thriving in a harmonized, multicultural community

Since 1990, we've empowered tens of thousands of immigrant, refugee, and newcomer youth and families to fulfill their potential in Canadian society. We help them to overcome emotional, cultural and socio-economic barriers that prevent them from becoming contributing members of Calgary and Canada. Through in-school and after-school programs, workshops, field trips and hands-on learning activities, we support kids who have a tough time integrating into their school and community. We provide one-on-one guidance and resources about settlement; most importantly, we familiarize them with Canadian culture so they can find a sense of belonging.

"This is a great place for newcomers, children, youth, and families to get information; [they're] paving the way for community engagement."

- Ejigu, CBFY Client

Message from the Board

The Calgary Bridge Foundation for Youth is now in its 35th year of commitment toward empowering newcomer youth by assisting them in their journey toward belonging and success in our local community, our city of Calgary, and beyond. In 2024, our strategic plan was implemented and continues to drive the work we do, always. Our CBFY office is constantly a hub of activity and succeeds at being a welcoming place for our youth, as well as the greater community.

2024 saw a continued sense of political uncertainty provincially, federally, and globally. The demand for our services and youth programming persists, while funding is less certain. The need for collaboration in our sector is crucial, and we continue to work on improving efficiencies with our partners, and internally, to provide these vital services and programs to as many Calgary youth as we can.

The call for financial support is paramount, and we will look to our larger community to further champion these amazing youth in our city. We will not waver in our dedication to our newcomers, providing support, experiences, and empathy along the way.

We could not do any of this without our amazing team, to whom I would like to say a big Thank You. The work you do is important, critical, and challenging. I respect the daily commitment, have witnessed the conversations, and observe the teamwork and dedication that take place every day. Thank you also to my fellow Board members, our sector partners, our funders, and our volunteers. Without you, this organization could not have endured for 35 years. Our community is so fortunate to have CBFY in its midst.

As we celebrate our 35th year, please join me in celebrating the foresight of our founders, the continued determination of our staff, the great support we receive from our funders, and most importantly, the energy, learning, and spirit we gain from the incredible youth we serve.

Message from the CEO

This year CBFY celebrates its 35th anniversary. It is only fitting that we should look back and thank those that brought this organization to life. We stand on the shoulders of giants! By looking at our past we come to realize how far we have travelled and take this opportunity to celebrate our achievements.

In 1988, Dr. John Wu, a pediatrician in Calgary, recognized an emerging issue that needed to be addressed. Recently arrived newcomer youth were struggling to find stability, belonging, and a way to be a part of the community here in Calgary. In many cases, due to limited social and emotional supports, they were turning to acts of crime that were pulling them closer to a life of gang involvement. Recognizing the problems this would create then and into the future, Dr. Wu mobilized his network of friends and associates, a path that would eventually lead him to the senior leadership of the Calgary Board of Education and Calgary Catholic School District. With the support of several interested parties, a decision was made to bring to life an organization that would focus on the needs of newcomer children, youth, and their families. By November of 1990, Dr. Wu was able to mobilize enough support to charter The Calgary Bridge Foundation for Youth as a not-for-profit here in Alberta. To charter an organization, you need a Board of Directors. So, Marian Hindmarsh, Rev. Carlo Titotto, Lisa Dare, Diane Danielson, Marmie Perkins Hess, Leonard Smith, Roslyn Thom, Raymond Wong, and Joanne Fiest all come forward and CBFY established its first board members, with a Superintendent of the CBE as the first Board Chair. Dr. Wu became an active member of the CBFY Board of Directors for the next twelve years.

Once "Bridge" was formed it was time to find a person to lead the organization. The Board selected Mr. Harry Yee. Harry gave up his career as an educator and took over as CBFY's first CEO. Together Mr. Yee and the CBFY board started applying for funding so they could hire staff and acquire the necessary resources to launch programs both in schools and in communities. A decade later, Mr. Yee would collaborate with Ms. Melanie Holgrem (IRCC) to bring the Settlement Workers in School (SWIS) program to The Calgary Bridge Foundation for Youth.

From an initial staff of two, CBFY has grown to over eighty full-time and close to 40 part-time employees. We deliver approximately 80 programs per week in over 130 schools. In 2021, we supported 4,876 clients. Last year that number swelled to over 12,000 young people.

The one thing we can rely on year over year has been the passion and commitment of the front line staff, and those that support them. They show up every day with the determination to help make a difference in the lives of newcomers and their families.

To those that have come before us and to those that are here today, including our volunteers, the CBFY Board of Directors, and the staff and their families: I thank you.

To our government funders—Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada and Family and Community Support Services (City of Calgary)—as well as our local donors, the United Way of Calgary and Area, the Calgary Foundation, the Royal Bank of Canada, and those who give what they can: we make sure the money you donate to us is spent wisely so we can make an impact with as many clients as possible. Thank you for your continued support.

I would also like to thank our partners, the Calgary Board of Education and Calgary Catholic School District, the Calgary Public Library, and Calgary's Immigrant Serving sector. The only way that we can support the needs of so many is to collaborate, and we value your support.

In light of the challenges that we are facing as a nation, I think it is more important than ever to recognize how lucky we are to be Canadian. THANK YOU, CANADA!!

2024 Highlights

CBFY OPEN HOUSE

In June 2024, we were proud to host an Open House at our new office in the Gateway Building, welcoming community partners, clients, funders, and supporters to celebrate a significant milestone... CBFY coming together under one roof for the first time in our history. The event marked a new chapter for our organization, bringing all of our teams into a shared space designed to foster collaboration and strengthen our services. Guests enjoyed delicious catering from WOW Chicken and were inspired by a heartfelt speech from Karen Young, CEO of United Way of Calgary. We were also honoured to welcome an Indigenous drummer and Elder, who led a traditional smudging ceremony to bless the new space and acknowledge the land we work on.

CBFY IN THE NEWS

In 2024, the Calgary Bridge Foundation for Youth was featured in several media outlets, reflecting growing public recognition of our impact in the community. Coverage from CTV News Calgary, CBC News Calgary, LiveWire Calgary, and the CBC Calgary Eyeopener Podcast highlighted the rising demand for our programs, our continued support for thousands of newcomer youth, and the challenges faced amid funding constraints. These stories amplified the voices of immigrant youth and showcased the vital role CBFY plays in helping families build new lives in Canada. We are proud to see our work gaining visibility and remain committed to advocating for the needs of newcomer children, youth, and families.

OUR SIGNATURE GALA

On October 18, 2024, we gathered at the Empire Banquet Hall to celebrate the achievements of 16 exceptional newcomer youth, each awarded a $1,500 scholarship to support their educational goals. The evening featured inspiring performances by Sand Artist Jungha Choo, CBFY's K-Pop Youth Dance Troupe, and ReMix: Powered by Revv52, along with a keynote from the Honourable Muhammed Yaseen, Alberta's Minister of Immigration and Multiculturalism. We extend heartfelt thanks to our generous donors, sponsors, and partners for making this unforgettable evening possible. Together, we continue to build bridges to belonging for Calgary's immigrant and refugee youth and families.

Volunteer Resources

CBFY's volunteers come from all walks of life, experiences, and talents. From seasoned professionals to enthusiastic students, each volunteer brings unique skills and perspectives to our organization.

This past year marked significant growth and community engagement for CBFY, made possible by the incredible support of our volunteers. For the first time, practicum students from Bow Valley College and Mount Royal University provided valuable assistance across programs from January to mid-April.

Our summer initiatives were enriched by dedicated volunteers who brought energy and enthusiasm. Throughout the year, CBFY benefited from the commitment of volunteers in diverse roles including the outstanding oversight of our volunteer Board of Directors, the dedicated Peer Mentors who guided newcomer youth, and the Youth Advisory Council, whose insights helped shape youth-led programming. Dedicated volunteers also played key roles in tutoring, program delivery, office administration, HR, IT, and warehouse support.

In addition to receiving support from volunteers, CBFY actively fosters a culture of service among the youth we support by offering workshops on community volunteering and providing opportunities for hands-on volunteer experiences as part of our programs. CBFY's work would not be possible without the passion and commitment of this remarkable volunteer community.

309 volunteers
collectively contributed
8,310 hours
of their time and talent to support CBFY's mission.

I came to Canada in 2024, and my first experience in a Canadian workplace was with CBFY. From the moment I arrived, I was amazed by the kindness of everyone—from the CEO to the receptionist. I felt accepted and valued in a way I never expected. During my volunteer shifts, people would come up to me, talk to me, and show genuine interest in my life. CBFY made me feel at home. That warmth and welcome shaped how I see Canada today. I'm truly grateful to be part of this incredible community.

Youth Employability Skills & Strategies (YESS) Program

Adapting to life in a new country can be challenging, especially for young people who need to balance education with work to support their families. The YESS Project assists newcomer youth and young adults aged 15 to 30 by providing the support and training they need to secure and maintain employment.

Through group sessions held in high schools, colleges, and at the CBFY office, as well as personalized one-on-one support, the YESS Project equips vulnerable newcomers with essential job-seeking skills, including resume and cover letter writing, employment site visits, and interview preparation.

▶ 21 workshops took place at 14 locations

The Family Reconnect, Rebuild & Resiliency Project supported 21 families navigating the challenges of reunification after long-term separation due to immigration.

Families who have experienced long-term separation face unique challenges upon reunification, affecting their emotional well-being, relationships, and adjustment to life in Canada. This project promotes healthy family dynamics by providing practical skills and insights to strengthen family life.

Through tailored sessions, participants examine the effects of separation, validate their experiences, and build pathways toward healing and connection. The program's informal delivery model accommodates diverse learning styles and emphasizes expression to support healing and family bonding.

Mentorship Program

The Mentorship Program focuses on supporting the settlement and integration of newcomer immigrant and refugee youth in grades 7-12.

The program provides information, resources, and support to facilitate positive transitions for youth into Canadian schools and communities. # The Outreach Program

The Outreach Program team is a mobile team that provides integrated services to newcomer and refugee youth aged 5 to 20 who face barriers and complex needs.

The Outreach Program is designed to:

- Address obstacles hindering settlement and integration
- Offer mental health support
- Provide social and emotional assistance
- Deliver behavioral and trauma-informed support

The Outreach Team includes two dedicated professionals who support newcomer youth in navigating challenges and thriving in their new environment. Through non-therapeutic, short-term counseling, they develop personalized support plans tailored to each individual's unique needs and circumstances.

Key objectives include identifying and addressing barriers faced by newcomer and refugee youth in the settlement and integration process. This involves trauma-informed needs assessments, collaborative solution planning, connection to essential resources, and ongoing evaluation through a structured case management approach.

The team also works to build life skills and emotional resilience, partnering with youth on their individual paths toward healing and well-being.

In 2024, the Outreach Team provided short-term, solutions-focused counselling to 144 newcomer students in 80 schools across Calgary.

A key strength of the program lies in its school-based delivery model, which offers several benefits for newcomer youth: Providing counselling during school hours in a familiar setting reduces barriers like stigma and transportation, while enabling faster intervention when challenges arise. Collaboration with school staff ensures a holistic approach to student wellbeing. This model is especially effective for students facing language barriers, acculturative stress, or unfamiliar school systems.

By embedding services within schools, the Outreach Team empowers students to build confidence, develop coping strategies, and thrive.

The majority of the students who received counselling support through the Outreach Program in 2024 were from Ukraine, Eritrea, Ethiopia and Colombia.
